Chicago [etc.]
v. illus. 22-27 cm.
Issued also in Library Journal, 1876-1906 (1876-77, 1879, 1883 in Library Journal only); issued as a number of the A. L. A. bulletin, 1907-48.
Title varies: 1876-1929, Papers and proceedings of the annual meeting (varies slightly)—1930-48, Proceedings of the annual conference (varies slightly) Conferences were not held in 1878, 1880, 1884, 1942-45 and 1949. The conference for 1949 was replaced by 7 regional conferences; composite proceedings were not published. In 1886 an unofficial conference in the Catskills took the place of the postponed St. Louis conference. In the numbering of the proceedings the Catskills conference of 1886 was not recognized until 1902, the conferences of 1889-91 being numbered 10, 11 and 12 respectively. The correct numbering was resumed with the 14th conference, 1892, by omitting no. 13 entirely.
Of the 15th meeting, Chicago 1893, only the proceedings were printed, with references to pages in the Library journal where abstracts of the papers may be found. The papers themselves were published in full in the Report of the Commissioner of Education for 1892-93, pt. 2, chapter 9; also separately, under title: Papers prepared for the World's Library Congress, held at the Columbian Exposition, Washington, 1896.

American Social Science Association.
The association was founded Oct. 4, 1865 as the American Association for the Promotion of Social Science; in 1869 the name was changed to American Social Science Association; and on Jan. 28, 1909 the association was incorporated by act of Congress. In 1912 the association organized as one of its departments the National Institute of Social Sciences. In 1921 the association, feeling that the institute had virtually taken over its principal field of activity, elected no further officers. When the institute learned upon application, that Congress no longer granted Federal charters, it contacted those association officers still in power to consent to giving the institute the association's charter through congressional amendment of the association's constitution. This amendment brought to a close the life of the association on June 16, 1926.

Originated with Robert Dodsley, at the suggestion of Edmund Burke, who was for some years editor and principal contributor. Some time after 1791, the copyright and stock were purchased by Ortridge and other booksellers. Messrs. Rivington published a rival continuation, which lasted from 1791 to 1812, and again from 1820 to 1824, when the two were merged into one. Cf. Lowndes. Bibliographer's manual, v. 1.
